The NHS North East Leadership Academy

Supporting your leadership journey

The future of the NHS requires changes in the way leaders work, which is why it’s important for all of us to invest in ourselves and spend time on our personal development.

We aim to ensure you’re ready for the future by providing tailored leadership development opportunities that are unavailable elsewhere in the NHS.

We manage a wide range of events including workshops, formal programmes, seminars, master classes and high-profile guest speakers, in areas including:

- Clinical Leadership Programmes
- Coaching & Mentoring
- Graduate Management Training Scheme
- Leadership Skills
- National Leadership Programmes
- NHS Healthcare Leadership Model
- Organisation Development
- Systems Leadership
- Talent Management

“We all think we know how the system works and we very often don’t. I think the big advantage of the systems leadership courses that NELA is running is that it gets us all onto the same page... there is really good thinking from around the world that is now being brought into the North East.”
We’ll help you be the best you can be

As a partnership organisation we aim to continuously develop leaders and managers to improve health services for patients and communities throughout the North East of England and North Cumbria.

Over the years – in addition to regular skills workshops, seminars and master classes – we’ve increased our capacity to deliver more in-depth tailored development direct to our partners. Our team and associates are highly skilled practitioners who can support your organisation with bespoke projects and improvement activities. This includes diagnostics and development, organisational development and service improvement consultancy, in-house workshops… and more.

The leaders and organisations taking advantage of our services – through participating in events, programmes and other interventions – are improving services across the health and social care system. If you’d like to find out more or speak to someone who has already made a difference following one of our interventions, please contact us and we’ll put you in touch.

We’re here to be flexible and responsive to your leadership development needs – just tell us what you need and we’ll provide or source it for you in the most effective way possible.

“I left my first coaching session in a different mind-set with clarity about what I could do in the following weeks. I have made more progress in the three weeks following my first coaching session than in the three months before.”
